THE happy and ſeaſonable Acceſſion of Your moſt ſacred Majeſty to the Throne, and the great and wonderful Succeſſes that have ſince attended Your Arms and Negociations, give us the firmeſt Aſſurance that we ſhall long enjoy the Religion and Liberties reſtored by the late King William, of ever glorious Memory, and now again ſecured to us by Your Majeſty's moſt gracious Declarations and Promiſes. We of this County in particular find our ſelves delivered from a Yoak that was too grievous: And we beg Leave to make uſe of this firſt Opportunity we have had of meeting, under Judges of Your Majeſty's appointing, to declare to Your Majeſty, that as we were always open and zealous Aſſertors of the Right of the Proteſtant Succeſſion in Your moſt illuſtrious Houſe, when we laboured under the greateſt Diſcouragements on that Account, ſo we ſhall be always vigilant to prevent the Miſchiefs deſigned by thoſe wicked and pernicious Men, who profeſs unlimitted Paſſive-Obedience; but have ſhewn, that they are too ready to ſow and foment Sedition, and practice Rebellion.

Vienna, April 15. On the the 13th Inſtant about 7 in the Evening the Empreſs was brought to Bed of an Archduke, the News of which was received by this Court and City with all imaginable Demonſtrations of Joy: Laſt Night between 8 and 9 a-Clock, the Solemnity of Chriſtning him, was performed in the great Hall of the Imperial Palace, where neceſſary Preparations had been made, to which Hall the March from the Empreſs's Bed Chamber was in the following Order; viz. the Nobility and Perſons of Diſtinction of the Court in great Numbers, the Knights of the Golden Fleece in their Habits of Ceremony, Sig. Grimani Ambaſſador of Venice, the Cardinal of Saxe-Zeitz, the Emperour in the Ceremonial Habit of the Order of the Golden Fleece, the Empreſſes Dowagers, and the 4 Archdutcheſſes. Then came the Prince of Lichtenſtein, Steward of the Emperor's Houſhold, carrying the Royal Infant, Archduke of Auſtria, and Prince of Aſturias, aſſiſted by two Gentlemen, and followed by the Ladies of the three Empreſſes Houſholds, and by ſeveral others. He was held at the Font by Prince Maximilian of Hanover, officiating as Godfather on the Part of the King of Portugal, the two Empreſſes Dowagers being Godmothers; and he was named Leopold, John, Joſeph, Anthony, Franciſco di Paula, Ermengild, Rudolphus, Ignatius, Balthaſar: The Service being performed by Sig. Spinola the Pope's Nuncio, attended by 24 Archbiſhops, Biſhops, and other Dignitaries. The Office of Baptiſm being ended, Prince Eugene of Savoy, Knight of the Golden Fleece, carried the young Archduke to the Emperour, who being ſeated, conferred on him in a proper Form, the Knighthood of the Golden Fleece, putting over his Neck the Collar of that Order; and then the new Knight being placed on a Velvet-Cuſhion embroidered with Gold, which was laid on a Table next to the Emperour's Chair, was complimented by every Knight of that Order in his Rank. This done, the Pope's Nuncio began the Te Deum which was Sung to Muſick; and then the Company returned in the ſame Order as they came to the Empreſs's Bed-Chamber. The Artillery on the Ramparts of this City, gave ſeveral Salvo's on this Occaſion, as did likewiſe all the Garriſon with their their ſmall Arms; and Illuminations, with all other Demonſtrations of Joy, have been univerſal throughout the Town theſe two Nights paſt, and will be repeated to Night. On the 13th a Treaty between the Emperor and the Republick of Venice was Signed.

Hambourg, April 28. We have received Letters from Norway of the 17th Inſtant, dated on board the Ebenezer a Daniſh Man of War, adviſing, that Admiral Gabel with his Squadron, arrived the 16th in the Night near Frederickſtad, and had begun to land the Troops which he carried from Copenhagen.

Bruſſels, April 29. On the 25th Prince Eugene's Regiment of Imperial Dragoons began their March from hence, and that of Wirtemberg is in Motion from Mons, being both ordered to Hungary. On the 26th Count Kinigſegg celebrated the birth of the Archduke with great Magnificence. In the Morning his Excellency received the Compliments of all the Nobility and Perſons of Diſtinction: Towards Noon they attended him to the Church of St. Gudule, where the Archbiſhop of Mechlin ſung the Te Deum, with great Solemnity; at which time the Cannon of the Town fired three Rounds, and the Infantry of the Garriſon, who were ranged on the Ramparts, gave three Salvo's. From Church the Company went to the Rivage, and again in the Evening to the Courſe; from whence moſt of the Perſons of Quality went to her Highneſs the Dutcheſs Dowager of Aremberg's, who had contrived a moſt agreeable Illumination on the Top of the Tower of her Houſe, and prepared a handſome Firework, which laſted till half an Hour after nine at Night: From thence they went to the Court, where they were diverted with a Firework ranged about the Fountain in the Park; and towards the Street there were Illuminations, Bonfires, and three Fountains running with Wine to divert the Populace. About Midnight the Ladies were conducted down from the Apartments into the Great Hall, where a large Table was placed in form of a Horſeſhooe, with 80 Plates for Ladies, and the Gentlemen had the Honour to ſerve them at Supper. After it was ended; the Ladies were reconducted to the Apartments, where they where entertained with all ſorts of refreſhing Liquors during the Ball, which ended about five a-Clock, without the leaſt Diſorder. On the 27th, at Night, moſt of the Ladies and Gentlemen came again to the Court, and were diverted for two Hours by the Burghers firing Rockets for a ſilver Baſon and Ewer, at a Bird ſet on a high Pole, at which Exercise they are very dextrous; yet the Prize was not gained; it is again to be contended for this Evening. Yeſterday at Noon the Cannon of the Town fired three Rounds; and in the Evening the Ladies were entertained with a Firework in the Canal at the Rivage: So that the publick Rejoycings continued three Nights ſucceſſively; the firſt Night the Magiſtrates made a very handſome Firework in the great Market Place before the Town-Houſe, the Tower of which was agreeably illuminated: Yeſterday the Princeſs de la Tour treated ſeveral Ladies and Gentlemen at Dinner, and at Night with a Ball; and this Day her Highneſs the Dutcheſs Dowager of Aremberg does the like. Sunday next is the Day appointed for all the Towns of the Auſtrian Netherlands to make Rejoycings for the Birth of the Archduke.

Whitehall, April 23.
